FIVE COMMITTEES NAMED TO INVESTIGATE ALL PHASES OF PROPOSED MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

Will Seek Information About It From Every Conceivable Angle.

NOT A CITY UNDERTAKING

Stress Laid on Fact That the Entire Northern Section of the County is to be Represented and Its Population is to be Taken Into Account.

Decision to recommend to the citizenry of the community the name "Connellsville Memorial Hospital" for the proposed new institution for the care of the injured and sick, the naming of committees to inquire into some of the details preliminary to the inauguration of a campaign for funds and the formation of an organization were the accomplishments of the first meeting, last evening at Red Cross headquarters, of the committee named Thursday evening to formulate plans for the proposed general hospital for northern Fayette county and contiguous territory. At the conclusion of the discussion the committee adjourned to meet a month or so hence at the call of the chairman.

Eight of the 11 members of the committee were at the meeting. H. M. McDonald, of Dawson, C. B. Franks of Lisenburg and Robert Norris of this city were unable to attend. Attorney Ross S. Matthews was unanimously elected chairman of the committee and Thomas J. Hooper secretary. Others at the meeting were L. S. Kerchner, Dunbar, and Meyer Aaron, Rev. Dr. Ellis B. Burgess, Rev. John T. Burns, Daniel Durie and T. J. Ward.

Committees were named as follows: First—A committee of three, Dr. Burgess, chairman, Meyer Aaron and T. J. Hooper, to inquire into the method of organization and government of other hospitals and ascertain the nature of their constitutions and by-laws.

Second—A committee of four on ways and means of raising the necessary fund for erecting and equipping the hospital and to determine whether or not the Liberty Loan organization might not be made available for the purpose of raising the fund. The committee was composed of Robert Norris, chairman, Rev. John T. Burns, L. S. Kerchner and H. M. McDonald.

Third—A committee of five, composed of L. S. Kerchner, chairman, C. B. Franks, T. J. Ward, Daniel Durie and H. M. McDonald to determine the attitude of the corporations of the community toward subscribing to a fund for the erection and equipment of the proposed hospital and also their attitude toward endowment of the institution for its maintenance.

Fourth—A committee of two, Chairman R. S. Matthews and Dr. Ellis B. Burgess, to confer with the State Board of Charities and other state officials on the attitude of the state relative to use of the property of the Cottage State hospital for a site and eventual absorption of that institution by the general one.

Fifth—A committee of three, composed of Chairman Matthews, Dr. Ellis B. Burgess and T. J. Hooper to examine the Cottage State hospital site for the purpose of determining whether proposed use of that site is feasible and to consult an architect on preliminary plans for the hospital.

As to the name, there was general sentiment in favor of inclusion of the term "memorial" in honor of the service men and women of the community. That it will be a general hospital is implied. The need of an institution for the care of diseased patients as well as injured was further emphasized. Decision as to the name is not final. It merely is to be the committee's recommendation to a mass meeting of citizens of the community to be called when the committee is ready to report on the preliminary work, which probably will be early in the fall, perhaps in September. It will then be up to the people to ratify or reject the suggested name.

The problem of maintenance of the hospital made it necessary that the committee center its attention in the matter of a site, for the present, to that of the Cottage State hospital, in the hope that an agreement can be effected with the state whereby the merger of the present institution and the proposed one will be brought about and the present structure replaced by a modern general hospital that will receive state aid.

The cost on construction and equipment, it was agreed, must be borne by the community. "Sooner or later," said Chairman Matthews, "the community must realize that it must care for its sick and injured." To this Dr. Burgess agreed, adding that for the maintenance of the institution dependence must be on the corporations and others of the community for "good healthy endowments." Therefore, in its work, the committee named to interview the corporations will ascertain their position on endowments. It was suggested that there are a number of industrial concerns which will be ready to endow rooms for the care of their injured or sick employees.

Emphasis was laid on the fact that this is not to be a Connellsville institution. The territory that will be embraced in the movement will extend from Rockwood on the east to Star

Junction and Perryopolis on the west and from Scottdale on the north to Mount Braddock on the south. Support of the smaller communities embraced within this boundary is believed to be assured when the people are convinced that it will be to the interest of all.

There is no doubt as to the ability of the community to finance the project, in the opinion of Mr. Ward, who has been engaged in hospital work in various parts of the country and who is in charge of the emergency hospital here last fall. "I have lived and worked in many of the large cities of the United States and Canada," he said, "and I have never seen anywhere else the spirit shown in the conduct of affairs here."

No definite time was fixed for reports by the several committees named. It was agreed, however, that an effort will be made to have another general meeting by September 1. The plan is to have the canvass in November.

PRESIDENT ASKS CONGRESS TO ORDER RAISE IN R. R. RATES

Wants Commission Created to Consider Wage Advances and Re-quire Rate Increases.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—A wholly new phase of the railroad legislation problem developed yesterday when President Wilson, acting upon the recommendations of Director General Hines of the Railroad Administration, suggested to Congress that a commission be created "to investigate and determine all questions concerning the wages of railway employees."

It is requested, in the President's communication, that the commission thus created be given power "to make the decisions of that body mandatory upon the rate-making body and provide, when necessary, increased rates to cover any recommended increases in wages, and, therefore, in the cost of operating the railroads."

This was the first time that Congress ever was asked by the chief executive to order the Interstate Commerce Commission to advance rates.

President Wilson's letter virtually transfers to the floor of Congress the question of whether there shall be an increase in transportation charges, long forecasted by the steady growing deficit arising from the failure of railroad incomes to equal the government guarantees.

WITH PERSHING'S OWN

Dunbar Soldier Member of Crack Regiment of the A. E. F.

First Class Private Stephen H. Mesco, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Mesco of Dunbar, is a member of the famous "Pershing's Own" crack regiment of the American Expeditionary Force. Formerly he was with Company C of the 52nd Infantry. Writing to his parents Private Mesco says:

"I have been overseas since July 6, 1918. I am wearing two service stripes and a victory button, with two stars for serving in two sectors at the front. I got to the third sector just as the armistice was signed. I have hiked all over France, have been in Germany and Belgium and am at present in Paris. I would be glad to be back in old Dunbar."

The letter was mailed July 13. In the same letter Private Mesco said it would be two or three months before he would get to start for home.

ELIE SHEETZ HERE

Millionaire Candy Maker Brings Drum Corps to Serenade Friends.

On his annual visit to his old home, Berlin, Somerset county, Elie Sheetz, millionaire candy manufacturer, paid a visit to Connellsville yesterday with his life and drum corps, with which he is accompanied on his pilgrimages to his old home. Mr. Sheetz plays a fife. He played one here yesterday while the drum corps serenaded some of his old friends.

Mr. Sheetz is a nephew of S. M. Sheetz of the South Side and a cousin of Perry R. Sheetz, formerly of the 110th Medical Detachment. The millionaire waited the former soldier at the Wright-Matler store. He is a brother of Mrs. Athalia Gillespie of South Pittsburg street. Among his acquaintances here are E. R. Ploie and W. D. McGinnis. Mr. Sheetz is the maker of Martha Washington Candies.

GOING TO ITALY

Joseph Constantine, Sr., To Visit Home After 15 Years.

Joseph Constantine, Sr., one of the best known Italian residents of the city, left at 12:15 this morning over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad for New York, whence he will sail, August 8, for Italy to visit relatives. Mr. Constantine has resided in Connellsville since his arrival in the United States 18 years ago. He expects to return early in the fall.

ROBBED SEVEN TIMES, MRS. CLARK GETS DOGS TO TRAIL THE THIEF

Scent Leads to Home of Robert Cook, a Neighbor, Who Is Arrested By Police.

Repeatedly robbed of sums of money, the whole totaling $400, Mrs. Hattie Clark, colored, of 128 South Meadow lane, brought matters to a focus Friday evening by introducing a pack of bloodhounds into the case. The result was the arrest of Robert Cook, a neighbor, also colored, after the dogs were said to have followed a trail from the Clark home to that of Cook.

Seven times had her home been ransacked, Mrs. Clark declared. Yesterday afternoon while the members of the family were absent, the place was again entered and in the evening $117 was said to be missing. Arrangements had been made with W. E. Harris of Farmington, W. Va., for the use of his hounds. The animals were taken through the Clark home. On being released they made a bee line. It is claimed, for the home of Cook, bounded against the door and when a window was opened leaped through. On information by Mrs. Clark Police Officer Tony Rendine arrested Cook.

Mrs. Clark appeared before Alderman W. D. Colborn at midnight and lodged charges of burglary and larceny. Cook was locked up for the night. This morning he was released under $500 bail, provided by Howard Latimer, for a hearing Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock before Alderman Colborn. Cook denies the charges.

Living with Mrs. Clark are Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs, colored. All the money taken was that of Mrs. Clark except $6, which, it is claimed, belonged to Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs.

Jacobs and Mrs. Cook assert that Cook sprinkled pepper about the scene to throw the dogs off the trail, after he heard they were being brought here.

BELA KUN QUILTS

Hungarian Dictator Resigns; New Government Sues for Peace.

By Associated Press.

VIENNA, Friday, Aug. 1.—Bela Kun, the Hungarian communist dictator, has resigned and been succeeded by a socialist government, according to a telephone message from Budapest. Upon receipt of news from the front that created consternation in Budapest, Kun at a meeting of the Soviet socialist became pale of face and with his back to the wall declared: "Very well, if you demand it, I must resign. I made the best fight I could."

VIENNA, Aug. 1.—Overtures for peace with the Allies have been made by the new Soviet government of Hungary which has been set up in succession to the Bela Kun regime. Bela Kun, who resigned his virtual dictatorship, has been furnished a safe conduct by the Allies and is expected to take refuge here, as it is felt that his life would be endangered if he remained in Budapest.

The peace overtures were made by Jacob Wellner, president of the soldiers and workers soviet of Hungary. Arriving in Vienna from Budapest, Herr Wellner asked Colonel Cunningham, the leading representative of the Allies at Vienna, and the other allied officials here to recognize the new government and to treat for peace.

MANY CAMPERS OUT

Indian Creek and Young River Valleys Lined With Them.

One hundred girls of the First Presbyterian church, Pittsburg, will arrive this evening at Camp Barr at Rogers Mill, in the Indian Creek valley. Eighty-five boys who have been in camp there left for home this morning. After the girls have enjoyed their outing of two weeks another lot will take their places.

The Indian Creek valley is alive with campers, from White Bridge to north of Indian Head. One of the large outing parties is that of the Presbyterian church of Scottdale at Hutch Ynne at Roaring Run. Small parties are located all along the valley.

Many camping parties are to be found along the Youghiogheny river from Confluence up.

TENNIS MATCHES

Local Men to Meet McElroy and Golf Here Today.

Local tennis lovers will have an opportunity to see some fast matches on the courts of the Connellsville Tennis association this evening between J. and E. O'Leary when John Brown and Kenneth Reid of this city will meet William Golf and W. S. McElroy of Pittsburg. There will also be several other matches, mixed doubles and singles.

With Golf and McElroy is E. W. Garbisch, a member of the W. & J. tennis and football teams, who will also participate in the tournament.

Officers of the club extend an invitation to the public generally to view the playing.

Arm Injured in Mine.

Edward Fry of Ohioville was admitted to the Cottage State hospital yesterday for treatment of a laceration of the right elbow suffered in an explosion at the Anderson mine yesterday. He was discharged from the hospital today.

STATE WILL NOT IMPROVE SPRINGFIELD ROAD UNTIL SNYDER STREET IS ALL PAVED

Until the city is ready to permanently improve Snyder street from the end of the present paving to the junction there is no hope of having the state improve the Springfield pike as a part of the Connellsville to Farmington road. This was made plain by Highway Commissioner Lewis S. Sadler during a conversation at Harrisburg recently with George B. Fred who was at the capital and took advantage of the opportunity to get some information from the highway commissioner relative to the proposed new mountain highway.

Early in the present season the highway department made a ruling, that the state would not connect its highways with those of cities or boroughs which were not improved. This policy, Mr. Sadler emphasized, will be adhered to. The situation in Connellsville was explained to him, also, the urgency of having the Connellsville-Farmington route improved. Mr. Sadler was informed as to the need of the route as affording an artery of communication between the city and the mountain districts but held that it will be necessary for the city to do its part before the state can go ahead.

The pike, or Snyder street, as it is known, is paved with brick from the junction with Crawford avenue to the end of the Snyder street at the Baisley blacksmith shop at the western edge of Snydertown. The paved portion reaches that section of the city without actually penetrating it. There remains a stretch of several hundred feet yet to be improved before the street is completed to the city boundary.

While there had been reports that the state would begin work during the summer on the Farmington end of this road nothing has been done and officials in Uniontown have no information that it will be started soon.

Work is being rushed by the county on the mile and three-quarters stretch of the road in German township between Baisling and the connection with the McClelland road. This work was left unfinished by the Bell-Rock company and the county is completing it. The road will be open within 60 days, it was said.

Bids were opened yesterday at Greensburg for a new bridge of plate girder type with concrete floor, spanning Jacob's creek at Iron Bridge but awaiting the contract was delayed. It was said the award might be made Monday. Three bids were received. All were high, though not unreasonably so, considering the prevailing prices, it was stated.

TWO CITY RESIDENTS SHARE IN $661,333.43, ESTATE OF LATE JAMES COCHRAN

Mrs. Basil J. Soisson and George G. Cochran, Jr. Each Receive $330,666.71.

By virtue of an order of Judge J. C. Work in the Orphan's court in Uniontown this morning, Mrs. Catherine Soisson, wife of Basil J. Soisson of Connellsville, and George G. Cochran, Jr., also of this city, will each come into possession of $330,666.71.

The order for distribution was made in the estate of the late James Cochran of Dawson. James Cochran died in 1894. Philip G. Cochran and M. M. Cochran were named executors and trustees of the estate. Five years later Philip Cochran died and the administration of the estate remained in the hands of M. M. Cochran, who is directed by the court order to divide equally between Mrs. Soisson and George G. Cochran, Jr., their shares of the estate as heirs of George G. Cochran, amounting to $661,333.43.

SGT. McKEVITT COMING

First Drafted Man from City to Reach France Expected Sunday.

Sergeant Charles A. McKevitt, the first drafted man from Connellsville to get to France, is expected to reach home tomorrow, according to a telegram received at his home this morning. The message said he had reached New York last Sunday and had been sent to Camp Mills.

Sergeant McKevitt was one of the first 12 draftees to go from Connellsville. Sergeant McKevitt was sent to Brest and assigned to the finance division of the quartermaster's corps. He had been there ever since. He was 23 months in the service.

Nebraska Ratifies Suffrage.

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 2.—Nebraska today ratified the federal woman suffrage amendment when the House by a vote of 94 to 0 passed a joint resolution providing ratification. The Senate voted for ratification on Thursday of this week. Nebraska is the 14th state to ratify.

CONCRETE ARCH UNDER EAST PARK VIADUCT WAS BIG JOB

Five Thousand Sacks of Cement, 11 Cars of Sand and 24 Cars of Gravel Used in Construction.

The concrete arch under the East Park viaduct has been completed and Contractors Alfredo DePolo and Louis Costa are removing the machinery and equipment used in its construction. Few people have any conception of the magnitude of the task undertaken three months ago. Some idea of the size of the job may be gained from the following figures:

In the construction the contractors used five cars of cement, the cars averaging a thousand sacks of 100 pounds each; 11 cars of sand and 24 cars of gravel, besides hundreds of pounds of steel mesh reinforcing. From end to end, not including the wing walls, the arch is 219 feet long. Measured inside it is 15 feet wide at the base and of the same height. The walls are four feet thick at the base, the thickness tapering to 22 inches at the crest of the arch. At each end are wing walls ranging from 20 to 28 feet in length. Approximately 900 cubic yards of concrete was used.

The contract was begun May 1 and completed on Thursday of this week, slightly under three months. The work was under the general supervision of City Engineer S. M. Frost and Councilman B. L. Berg, superintendent of streets, with Frank Conway as inspector. During all the course of the work Superintendent Berg did not miss a day in visiting the scene.

This cost was approximately $15,500. As compared with this the county bridge over Mount creek at Davidson cost $17,000. There are several times as much concrete in the arch as in the bridge, it is stated.

The next task is to make the fit over the arch. Beginning next week the plan is to dump two or three cars of slag a day. According to estimates by Superintendent Berg a thousand cars will be required. If the slag is available Mr. Berg hopes to have the fill completed at the end of the year. Contractors and others having clean dirt to dispose of are invited to dump it into the fill. Openings in the dump have been provided for this purpose.

DIRECTOR RANKIN IS PLEASED WITH CROPS AT COUNTY POOR FARM

Big Yield of Wheat, Potatoes Coming Along Fine and Garden Stuff Plentiful.

Crops above the average will be harvested on the county poor farm this year, according to W. H. Rankin, of Upper Tyrone township, of the board of poor directors. Twenty-two acres were planted in wheat and this week 317 bushels were threshed out. There is also plenty of good garden truck and the potato crop is fine. At least 1,000 bushels, and perhaps more, are estimated to compose the crop. That amount will not be quite enough for the county home for the year but it will be a big item in the total food required. There are also 50 head of nice snouts running in the alfalfa and rape which will provide cheap meat later on.

Mr. Rankin was raised on a farm, consequently he is much pleased at the big crops that will be yielded by the county farm this year. He took a personal interest in the place and with the assistance of T. Springer Todd, who has charge of the farm, got good results.

"Come and see us," is Mr. Rankin's invitation to everybody in this section of the county. He is anxious to show how the institution is conducted, consequently visitors are always welcome. The home is in splendid condition at this time.

COST OF LIVING THE REAL REASON HOUSE IS TO REMAIN IN SESSION

Members Realize That Problem Is Basis of Railway Men's Demand For Increase.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—With their proposed five weeks' recess abandoned at the request of President Wilson, who asked that they remain in session to consider a new labor crisis, precipitated by the demands of railroad employees for increased wages, members of the House today set about rearranging plans to meet the unexpected developments.

Although the request by the President was that the creation of a commission to determine all questions concerning the wages of railway men be considered, it generally is recognized that the real problem before the House will be that of the high cost of living, which the claims of the railway men are based and a lowering of which would be expected to solve the situation.

It was expected that agreement would be reached today on a plan to permit members to go home under a three-day continuous recess program, their presence in the House to be assured when the administration plans for lowering living costs are presented, probably late next week. The vote to abandon the recess was not recorded and was almost unanimous.

CHICAGO CALM

Soldiers Patrol Streets But Everything Is Quiet.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—Calm prevails in the "black belt" district of the south side today and but for the presence of soldiers and policemen there was little to indicate that for four days and nights the district was terrorized by a clash between whites and negroes that resulted in 35 deaths and the injury of hundreds.

One fight between a white man and a negro was the only report of trouble in the sector for the 12 hours preceding this morning. Several fire alarms were answered during the same period but in each instance it was reported that nothing was to do with the origin of the flames.

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—An incendiary fire which the police declare was started by negroes early today swept through the district bounded by West 43rd, West 54th, South Lincoln street and South Hermitage avenue, destroying 101 homes of Polish and Lithuanian employees of the stockyards and causing a property loss of more than $200,000. Three persons are missing and a score were injured in the conflagration.

APPROVAL OF RICHEY

As Census Supervisor in 21st District Has Been Requested.

The name of Francis M. Richey of Pennsylvania has been submitted by Director of the Census S. L. Rodgers to Secretary of Commerce Redfield for approval as supervisor of the census in the twenty-first district, composed of Fayette, Greene and Somerset counties.

George H. McWhorter of Greensburg has been named as supervisor in the nineteenth district, composed of Westmoreland and Butler counties.

PASSES EXAMINATION

Russell T. Engelka Now Qualified to Enter Upon Practice of Dentistry.

Russell T. Engelka, a graduate of the Connellsville high school and of the dental department of the University of Pittsburgh, has successfully passed the examination of the State Dental Examining board which qualifies him to enter upon the practice of his profession.

Mr. Engelka is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Engelka of Lincoln avenue.

BARGAIN DAYS NEXT WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY

Annual Reduced Price Carnival Arranged By Merchants for August 6 and 7.

STORES ARE PREPARING

Announcements of What the Stores Have to Offer Contained in The Courier's 15 Advertising Pages Today; Big Crowds are Expected.

Throughout the 16 pages of The Courier today will be found announcements bearing on important events in Connellsville—events that have become permanent in the business life of the city—the annual Bargain Days, which are to be held next Wednesday and Thursday, August 6 and 7. Safe, it is to say the annual return of the bargain carnival will not be of lesser importance than the several which have been held since they were launched eight years ago.

In the face of conditions brought about by the war and which remain abnormal Bargain Days will have a significance fully equal to that of last year. Prices of merchandise have not declined from those in effect in 1918. Far from it, in many instances they have been steadily mounting, with no prospect of relief.

Few if all it will be well for the consumers to peruse the advertising columns of The Courier today. An hour devoted to study of the inducements offered by the merchants will aid one in determining how to spend the money laid aside for the purpose to the best advantage. Hundreds of bargains are listed in The Courier columns. Hundreds of others do not appear there. They will be found on the counters and shelves of the stores. Practically every line of business is included in the carnival. Each advertiser has something to offer, that, at the prices quoted, should make clearance quick and easy.

Bargain Day—one day the first year—was instituted for the purpose of disposing of the surplus that is bound to accumulate at the end of a season. Since that first day there have from time to time been proposals of similar events in the winter but the city has not yet come to this. It has been the history of Bargain Days that the events have served to remove stocks from the shelves and counters that otherwise might have been carried in the next season. The wise merchant acts on the theory that it is better to remove the surplus at cut prices than to hold them over another season.

Bargains for men, women and children will be found in the offerings enumerated in The Courier this afternoon. It therefore will be to the advantage of every household to make a careful study of every advertisement. What one merchant may not have will be found in the offerings of another. All of the merchants embraced in the Bargain Day movement are represented in The Courier's advertising columns.

Preparations to handle record-breaking crowds of shoppers have been made. The first morning's business will, undoubtedly, be the greatest, but it is impossible for everything to be sold within that time. There will be bargains galore for those who come even late the second day, even though the cream be gone. Each day there will be something attractive.

LABOR SHORTAGE

Local Construction Company Needs Men on Cambria County Job.

The Penn Construction Company, which has a big state road contract in Cambria county, is making rapid progress. Already a big stretch of the highway has been completed and work is being pushed on the remainder. It still has more than a year's work to do on the job, however, according to B. O'Connor, a member of the firm.

A lot more men could be used by the company on this job, Mr. O'Connor says. Fifty will be sent from here on Monday.

Bernard O'Connor, Jr., who recently returned from France, has taken a position with the Penn company.

SERGEANT RICHEY HOME

Local Soldier, Injured in Motorcycle Accident, Leaves Hospital.

Sergeant Eugene S. Richey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Richey of Eighth street, Greensburg, is home from Fort Snelling, St. Paul, Minn., where he has been a patient in General Hospital No. 29 for several months. He was injured in a motorcycle accident and underwent several operations. Later a portion of the right leg had to be amputated.

He was attached to the Fourth Aero Squadron and has been in the service since March 27, 1917.

Colored Scouts to Camp.

Colored Boy Scouts of the city, forming Troop 6, will go to Camp Wildwood, Indian creek valley, Monday for an outing of two weeks. They will be in charge of Scoutmaster J. H. Carpenter, assisted by John W. Jackson and George Mills. Friday, August 8, will be "visitors' day" for the boys.

EVERSON MUST HAVE METERS OR LOSE ITS WATER

Citizen's Water Company Puts Alternative Up to Consumers.

DECEMBER 1 IS THE DATE FIXED

Outcome Uncertain for at a Public Meeting, Residents Decided Against Meters and, Indicated They Had Source of Supply If Cut Off.

Special to The Courier
SCOTSDALE, Aug. 2.—The Citizens water company of Scottdale has notified the residents of Everson that unless they allowed the water company to install meters in their houses and places where water was used on the first day of December water will be shut off. This step was taken by the water company following a meeting held in Everson at which consumers decided not to allow the water company to install meters. It was stated at this time that if the company should shut the water off they had a means of providing a supply but did not make public the source.

At some homes in Scottdale the company was not allowed to install meters and these persons, along with the residents of Everson, have received notice that unless they allow meters to be installed, their supply of water will also be shut off. December 1.

At the present time no new steps have been taken by the engineers employed by the borough, water company and state commission toward settling a value on the water company's plant, except that their reports are about ready and they expect soon to meet the commission.

A BIG INCREASE IN THE OUTPUT OF BITUMINOUS COAL

Gain of 2,760,000 Tons Over the Preceding Week; Shortage for Year to Date is 77,550,000 Tons.

The new level of production of bituminous coal, reached in the week of July 12 when production increased from an average in the preceding two months around 3,500,000 tons, to 10,220,000 tons, was sustained in the third week of July. Production in the week ended July 9 is estimated by the United States Geological Survey at 9,953,000, or but 3 per cent below the previous week. It will be recalled that production in the week of July 13, 1918, was the highest recorded in a year of record-breaking production. An average of 10,000,000 tons a week will not be exceeded until buying increases in the Middle West.

Compared with last year, bituminous production is approximately 77-550,000 tons less at this time than it was July 13, 1918. Total bituminous production for the current calendar year up to July 12, is placed by the Survey at 229,572,000 net tons. The average daily production has been about 500,000 tons less than in 1918.
By a coincidence the new high production record week falls this year on the anniversary of the new high production record week of 1918, approximately 13,234,000 tons having been produced during the week ending July 13, 1918.

Anthracite production for the week ending July 12, totaled 1,874,000 tons, an increase of more than twenty-five per cent over the preceding week.

MAY NOT RETURN

Foreigners Returning to Europe Likely to Have Trouble Getting Back.

Foreign-born miners leaving the United States for Europe will have trouble in the future getting their passports vised should they desire to return to the United States, according to advices from Acting Secretary of State Frank L. Polk, to the National Coal Association. Mr. Polk writes:

"It is not believed that the Department would now be warranted generally in refusing to grant permits for departure to neutral and friendly aliens desiring to return to their native countries. However, alien laborers who contemplate leaving the United States should be warned that, because of the present strict regulations they will probably be unable to obtain visas of their passports by American consular officers in the near future, to enable them to return to this country."

AUGUST FURNITURE SALE

Genuine Bargains in Quality Furni- ture and Homefurnishings at Aaron's

During this great August Sale you have the advantage of buying Furniture, Rugs, Carpets, Stoves and Homefur-nishings of known quality—the only kind it pays to buy for your Home—at prices that are far less than you will be able to buy similar Homefurnishings for years to come.

Prices on Furniture and Homefurnishings, like everything else, are rapidly advancing and we can state frankly that we doubt very much if we will ever be able to offer such values as we are doing during this August Sale.

Another point we wish to emphasize is that every department in our store is included. There are Six Big Floors and Basement filled to their capacity—giving you over an Acre of Homefurnishings from which to make your selections. The varieties are so large and the range of prices so wide that you are sure to find exactly what you want.

And to enable everyone to enjoy these tremendous savings—selections made now will be held for later delivery, if desired. This feature of our service should appeal particularly to Newly Married Couples and Prospective Brides who are planning to go to housekeeping.

You can also take advantage of our liberal charge account system which makes the matter of payments both easy and convenient.

Anticipate your future needs and make your selections now. Because right now wonderful values are to be obtained in Furniture for every room in the Home and Furniture of every description.

MERGE RAILROADS INTO GREAT SYSTEMS WITH FEDERAL AID

Is Plan Worked Out By National Transportation Conference.

A YIELD OF SIX PER CENT

On a Fair Valuation of Properties to Be a Responsibility Placed Upon the Interstate Commerce Commission; Reserve Fund Provided by Congress

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Private ownership and operation of railroads, merged into 20 or 30 great competing systems under the supervision of a federal transportation board, with a statutory rule of rate-making assuring to the roads a net return of six per cent, has been offered to the House commerce committee as the plan of the National Transportation Conference.

The plan evolved is said to be a combination of the best features of plans already put forward, with some new elements assembled into what the conference regarded as a harmonious whole.

Continued government operation until remedial legislation is enacted is urged with the limitation that such legislation should be enacted this year.

With the return of the roads, at a time when many probably will be showing deficits, there should be made available by Congress a railroad reserve fund of $500,000,000, administered by the proposed Federal Transportation Board, for the stabilization of the roads credit and to facilitate the recommended consolidation.

The five eventually would be returned to the government.

Government guarantee of earnings is not favored. Instead, it is urged that the Interstate Commerce Commission be made responsible for rates and fares designed to yield the carriers in each designated traffic section not less than six per cent upon the fair value of the property.

Those roads earning more than six per cent would be required to put half the excess into a company contingent fund, until the fund amounted to six per cent of the fair value of the company's property, the other half going to a general railroad contingent fund administered by trustees, appointed by government authority and maintained for the benefit of all the railroads of the country. After any road's contingent fund reached the six per cent requirements its annual contribution of excess earnings to the general contingent fund would be increased to two-thirds, the remaining one-third of this excess being retained by the company for distribution among stockholders or other lawful purposes.

The general railroad contingent fund would be used to assure the six per cent return without entailing a government guarantee or unreasonable rates. It would be drawn upon by all roads of a designated traffic section when in any year the net return fell below six per cent and those roads would share in the distribution pro rata to their gross earnings.

The fund would be built up to $750,000,000 and any excess would be surrendered to the government, to be used for providing additional transportation facilities or lessening the cost of transportation to the public by reducing capital and investment accounts of the roads.

Grouping or consolidation of the railroads into competing systems was declared to be "essential," because railroad rates must be the same for similar services, whether performed by the weak necessities railroads or by the strong and prosperous ones.

The grouping should be about the present strong systems. It was urged, among commercial lines, and not by arbitrary territorial sub-divisions. Resulting corporations should be subject to jurisdiction of Congress, according to the conference, through Federal incorporation, with powers of police regulation and local taxation reserved to the states.

Each of the consolidated companies would be required, under the plan, to have 12 directors, three of whom would be selected by the Federal Transportation Board and one by the employees.

FINANCING PLAN

For Extension of the Morgantown & Wheeling Road Is Approved.

The Warburg Board of Trade has recommended the acceptance of the proposition for financing the extension of the Morgantown & Wheeling Railroad from its present terminus at Braine to Waynesburg. The plan provides for the purchase by the people of Greene county of $250,000 worth of bonds, at 90 cents on the dollar, the money to be deposited in local banks and to be paid over to the company upon the completion of the line and after an engine and car have passed over the line from Randall, W. Va., to such a point in the borough of Waynesburg as may be selected by the company as its temporary or permanent passenger station.

Grading for the railroad from Morgantown to Waynesburg was practically completed several years ago. It was intended when to construct an interurban electric line, but the promoters met financial reverses and the present holders are said to have acquired the rights-of-way and other valuable property at very low cost.

Files Polish Treaty.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—A copy of a treaty between the "big five" powers and Poland, said to have been signed at Versailles on June 28, was put in the Senate record today by Chairman Lodge of the Foreign Relations committee who said it had been submitted to the British parliament two weeks ago.

METHOD TO FOLLOW IN PRESENTING LOSS AND DAMAGE CLAIMS

New York Central Issues Circular Outlining What the Requirements Are.

Suggestions as to the form and substance of loss and damage claims for coal and coke shipments have been embodied in a circular recently issued by G. N. Snider, coal traffic manager of the New York Central Railroad, who states that General Order No. 41 of the Director General of Railroads necessitates the meeting of certain requirements before the carriers can pay such claims.

Use of the standard blank approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission is recommended. This blank, printed on 8 1/2 by 11 paper, provides spaces for the name and address, road and individual to whom claim is presented, railroad and claimant's claim number, amount of claim, description of shipment, consignee, consignee, method of computing claim and list of supporting documents. The latter consist of:

(1) the original paid freight bill, if freight charges were collected at destination; (2) the original bill of lading, if any was issued, and (3) the original or certified copy of the invoice of value on which the claim is based. If any necessary document has been lost or destroyed, the claimant, "shall file a bond of indemnity to cover."

Under the head of basis for claim, the railroad circular says:

"1. If defective car, state nature, size, age, location and probable cause of defects and whether repairs had been made to inside or outside of car; if hoppers not tightly closed, say how far open, whether open all the way across and whether all fastenings present and in good condition.

"2. If pilferage, state fully reason for that conclusion and describe area and location of any depressions in the load.

"3. If reweighing at destination or in transit and car was neither defective nor apparently pilfered, state why reweighed.

"4. If any other cause, state facts as fully as possible."

In filing the claim, the claimant should state fully how the destination weight has been ascertained. If the car has been weighed over a railroad or private track scale, he should give the gross, tare (both stenciled and actual) and net weights and the date of weighing. Where wagon scale weights have been used the claimant should specify the distance of the scales used from the car, whether all coal and coke (including screenings) was unloaded and reweighed; whether the shipment was weighed as unloaded or whether it was first dumped into a bin and then weighed out. On claims supported by wagon scale weights, the claimant is directed to furnish a certified statement of wagon scale weights giving gross, tare and net weights and the date of each load. Where weight has been ascertained on the measurement basis the claimant should state the details of the measurement and the number of cubic feet used as equivalent to a ton. Where none of these methods of weighing have been employed, and an estimated weight is used, the claim papers should state in detail the basis for such estimate.

FARMERETTES BUSY

Girls Show They Can Do Hard Work Just Like Men.

Twenty-five girls at Roslyn, Long Island, are giving daily proof that women can be successful farmers, under the new regime of an eight-hour day, generous salary, modern living conditions and allowance of time for recreation.

They are members of the land army unit of the National League for Women's Service. Mrs. Richard Donay of Brooklyn is chairman of this division. The young agriculturists are college girls, art and music students, and business women with a few typical "home girls." They have readily adapted themselves to the hard work of a large farm; planting, cultivating, and harvesting crops as efficiently as any man.

The estate where the land army is employed supplies fancy produce to the largest New York City hotels. The farm is conducted on lines similar to those of an up-to-date industrial plant; each worker has her appointed task, and thus there is no confusion as to what to do or when to do it. The girls work steadily during regular hours, and relax completely at the dinner hour. An expert chef prepares meals, a "kitchen police" corps of two of the girls attends to details of serving. The personnel of the "K. P." changes weekly.

The girls live in a large, well-ventilated dormitory with attractive lounging rooms. In addition a recreation hall is provided, with piano and victrola for dancing. Many of the "farmerettes" take week-end trips to their homes.

INJUNCTION IS SECURED AGAINST PORCH BUILDER

Mt. Pleasant Council Goes to Law to Restrain Further Work on Addition.

HEARING ON NEXT TUESDAY

Councilmen P. E. Painter and C. A. Galley Go to Greensburg and Secure Action After Appearance Before Judge McConnell; Other News Notes of Day.

Special to The Courier.
MOUNT PLEASANT, Aug. 2.—Following a special meeting of council on Monday night when it was decided to notify Mr. Baughman to stop work on his main street porch because it did not comply with a borough ordinance, information was brought to councilmen that their instructions were not being obeyed—that Mr. Baughman was going ahead with his porch.

Yesterday Councilmen P. E. Painter and C. A. Galley, with President Blaine B. Goldsmith, went to Greensburg and secured an injunction after application to Judge McConnell.

Last night Sheriff John P. Kilgore served the injunction on Mr. Baughman. He was notified to appear at Greensburg for a hearing next Tuesday.

No Arrests in July.
For the first month of prohibition Mount Pleasant did not have a single arrest. Thirty arrests, four of which served time, and $185 in fines, was the July, 1918, record.

Personal.
Mrs. Harry Swartz and son, Donald, have returned home after a visit to Cleveland, Ohio, friends.
Mrs. Jeannette Barry of Youngstown, Ohio, is the guest of her father, Robert Hood.

SHORT WORKING DAY WILL REDUCE OUTPUT OF COAL IN BRITAIN

Estimated Decrease Will be 70,000,000 Tons; Price Will be More Than Double as Result.

The output of British coal for the 12 months from July 15, 1919, when the 7-hour working day comes into effect, is estimated at between 214,000,000 and 217,000,000 tons, as compared with 287,000,000 tons in the year 1913, says the American Chamber of Commerce in London. These are the figures announced in the House of Commons by Sir Auckland Geddes, president of the board of trade, after the conference with the controller of coal mines.

In 1913, the chamber reports, the British coal production of 287,000,000 tons allowed an exportable surplus of 77,000,000 tons. In 1918 with the war still going on, the production was 230,000,000 tons of which 34,000,000 were exported. The drop in output to 214,000,000 tons for the coming year, becomes all the more serious, when it is realized that there is no longer any shortage of miners, many thousands having been demobilized and returned to work since the armistice. The outstanding fact is the decline in the production per man.

Even if the amount of coal kept for home consumption is kept down to the amount used last year on a strict rationing basis—196,000,000 tons—the export surplus available will amount only to about 20,000,000 tons. This will have most serious results the chamber points out. Not only must Great Britain's continental allies go without the coal for which they almost are entirely dependent upon Great Britain, but Great Britain herself will be tremendously handicapped by the fact that she will no longer be able to rely upon coal, which for years has been her standby in foreign trade as a substitute for currency. She will now have to pay for her imports in other goods or sterling. Furthermore the increase in the price of coal for domestic consumption, variously estimated at from 4s 6d (about $1.08) to 12s (about $2.52).

Our Entire Store Filled With Genuine Bargains For Wednesday, Aug. 6th—Bargain Days—Thursday, Aug. 7th

These 1919 Bargain Days will be observed in the same big liberal way. Shelves, racks and counters are well filled with fine offerings and our friends are going to buy bargains just the same as in years past.

Prices in many instances may be a trifle higher than in former years and we cannot guarantee all lots to last throughout both days, and of course, those who do get here earliest will have the best selection.

Considering the skyward tendency of all market prices we are confident that every person who makes the best of this thrift event will be highly pleased with their purchases when they see how much the same merchandise will cost this Fall. Many kinds of goods are scarce and getting scarcer. Many things are high and getting higher. We only know that most everything is going to cost more very soon.

We also know that we aim to have a store service that fits you perfectly—satisfies you completely. That is why we feel that we can give you the biggest money's worth obtainable.

Extra salespeople will be in attendance and Gold Bond Stamps will be given with each purchase.

SENATORS ARE SPEAKERS

Wadsworth of New York and Chamberlain of Oregon Strongly Emphasize the Need of Trained Citizen Soldiers; Bill Already Drawn Up.WASHINGTON, Aug. 2.—What is intended to be a nation-wide movement in advocacy of universal military service was inaugurated by the Military Training Camps association here yesterday with a dinner in the New Willard hotel and speeches by Senator James W. Wadsworth, of New York, chairman of the Senate Committee on Military Affairs; Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, and Representative Julius Kahn of California.The prepared speeches of Senator Wadsworth who presided, and of Senator Chamberlain strongly emphasized the need for a trained citizen soldiery.
It was announced that a Senate Chamberlain and Representative Kahn would introduce in Congress a bill drawn by Major Thomas McInnis, chairman of the committee on universal training of the Military Training Camps Association. This measure is to embody provisions for six months training in cantonments of all young men at the ages of 18 or 19 years, all men to become automatically naturalized by completion of training.Under this bill the regular army would be a "small professional force" and the National Guard would be "restored to its constitutional function" and could not be ordered out of the country without its own consent, or that of the state authorities. The National Guard would be recruited from the men who had completed their six months of training. A certain number of men would be permitted to take their training in the navy, constituing a naval training force.Veterans of the great war would be asked temporarily to constitute the reserve so as to transmit to the younger men their experience and training.

FIDDLES FOR DOUGHBOYS

Y. M. C. A. Will Let Soldiers Take Musical Instruments Home.COBLENZ, July 12.—(By mail).— According to the terms of a contract announced by the music department of the Y. M. C. A., musical instruments furnished entertainment units playing in the third army area may be taken back to the United States provided they are used for entertainment purposes on the way home. This means that approximately 3,000 violins, banjos, cornets, ukuleles, and drums will become the property of the dough-boys.Soldiers now using these instruments must agree on returning to do their part toward entertaining the troops in the embarkation area, on the boat and at the demobilization camps. They are forbidden to sell them, and in case they desire to dispose of them after reaching home, instructions have been given to return them to the local Y. M. C. A. where they are stationed.For several months "Y" took over the total output of two German factories located at Saxony and Mainz.
About 150 complete orchestras were equipped and 100 received supplies.
Over 200 soldier shows were given instruments, and fully 3,000 were distributed among doughboys here.Music has been furnished in unlimited quantities throughout the area.
Charts for mass singing have been provided, and a campaign for the encouragement and promotion of singing as a pastime has been carried on.

STOCKING COKE

Eastern Consumers Act in Anticipation of Car Shortage.Acting in anticipation of car shortage eastern coke users are reported by the Daily Iron Trade as making heavy speculations and in many cases have scheduled shipments for August, and occasionally September. The coke interests regard this movement as an indication that conditions at consuming plants are improving, since the buyers could not be expected to lay in large stocks of coke if they did not consider that the prospect for using them was good.Considerable new business is being booked by the northern New Jersey by-product coke producer at $2.50, Connellsville, or $3.00, delivered at Newark and other northern New Jersey points for foundry fuel for delivery over the remainder of this year.
Where consumers desire to place orders for the first half of 1920, they are being permitted to do so on the basis of $3.50 Connellsville, or $1 higher than the price for this year.Shipmen on Strike.
CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—A nation-wide strike of railroad shipmen was called today by the federated shipmen's union and shortly after that hour messengers received at union headquarters here word of walkouts at Atlanta,

Miss Olga Parodi, daughter of Senator and Senator Horace P. Parodi of Gil-litt. The marriage of Lieutenant and Mrs. Dyer took place at Middletown, Conn.HEINRICH HEINE PROPHESED THE WAR 80 YEARS AGOGerman Poet Said German Doctrines Would Explode and Fill World With Admiration.The war Germany waged against the rest of humanity was prophesied about 80 years ago, says the Brooklyn Eagle, by a great poet of Germany.
Heinrich Heine, according to an article by Alfred Panzini, which appeared in the Giornale d'Italia, a newspaper published in Rome, Italy.The writer quotes, in a translation direct from the German, Heine's prophecy. Following are the most significant parts of the quotation:"You have, oh Frenchmen, no suspicion of what it (the German revolution) will be like; the German revolution will be neither milder nor sweeter, because the criticism of Kant the transcendental idealism of Fichte, the philosophy of the philosophers of nature, preceded it. Those doctrines have developed revolutionary forces, and are only awaiting the opportune moment to explode and fill the world with terror and admiration. What will appear the followers of Kant who will no longer wish to hear play mentioned when referring to the world of facts any more than they allowed it in the world of ideas; and they will turn upside down with club and hatchet our entire European life in order to eradicate the very last root of the past. On the same scene, will come the followers of Fichte and it will be impossible for vain, volatile fanaticism to be dominated by fear or by self-interest, for these philosophers live in the pure idea, and disdain material things, similar in this to those primitive Christians who were to be conquered neither by corporal punishment nor by the allurements of terrestrial joys.
The philosopher of nature will be terrible in that he puts himself in connection with all the original powers of the earth, evokes the occult forces of German traditions, calls to life again the forces of the entire German pantheism; revivifies that fury of battle, which we find in the ancient Teutonic peoples which wished to fight not in order to overcome his enemy, but to fight simply for the sake of fighting."Then in that day, ah me! You will see. The God Thor will rise with his gigantic hammer and demolish the Gothic cathedrals. When you, oh dear neighbor of France, shall hear the uproar and the tumult, be on your guard, and do not occupy yourselves at all with that which we in Germany will be doing for you might get into grave trouble. Take care not to blow on the fire, take care also not to attempt to put it out, for you might burn your fingers. The peoples of Europe will group themselves as upon the steps of an amphitheatre around Germany to see a great and terrible game. I advise you, oh Frenchmen, to keep quiet, and above all, to take care not to applaud! We could so easily misinterpret your intentions, and push you a little brutally according to our coarse and impolite way.""You understand perfectly that when the wish comes to fight with you the Germans will have no difficulty in finding an excuse on that occasion. I counsel you to be on the alert.
Whether the royal prince of Prussia or Doctor Werth becomes dictator does not matter. You, oh Frenchmen remain always armed, and remain quietly in your place, but at attention. I have for you only good intentions, and was almost terrified when I heard just lately that your ministers were contemplating the disarmament of France."Fragrant bits of the prophecy were quoted last year by French and Italian newspapers at the time of the bombardment of the Rheims cathedral, but in that form lost its significance. Alfred Panzini was the first to quote it in its entirety.

Our Neighbors

The Inconsiderate One Who Keeps a Pup

WHO SAYS CONNELLVILLE ISN'T A GOOD PLACE TO LIVE IN? HERE'S AN EXPLORER WHO'S DISCOVERED NEW THINGS ABOUT ITI'll tell you, mon, Connellsville and its surroundings are great. If you don't believe me, come with me. You Sam, give the crank a turn, jump in
and let me have lots of steering room. I'll prove it to you.We're off. We leave Brimstone Corner. See the fine public and religious buildings and residences we are passing. There on the left is the Frances Cameron school building.
Quick now, on the right are the Baltimore and Ohio Y. M. C. A., Christian church, Masonic Temple. On the left are one of Andy's famous libraries and a replica of Colonel William Crawford. Now up Lincoln avenue.
View the residences; how nice they look with all the season's flowers in resplendent bloom. Out Vine street now. More fine residences. Look down Green street. Pretty nice, eh?
We reach Isabella road. Now take a look at Bailey's, Kramers', Sol-son's and Markell's fine homes. See Will Seller's beautiful bungalow peeping out from among the trees on the hill and Lyell Buttermore's there on the other side. See Charley Hood's home and then risk one look at the setting sun off there in the azure sky. Now, Sam, down Washington avenue. As we turn into Race street, on the left we pass the fashionable South Side school. Now out Davidson avenue to Pittsburgh street. On our right we see De Muth's greenhouse with a million blossoming flowers and plants. On the left J. M. Grey's palatial residence, the Armory, the Colonial theatre, Dr. Echeard's hospital.
They're all worth bragging about; what do you say, Sam? Now, down the South Pittsburgh street hill and we scout up Fairview avenue, past the high school. Sam, isn't that a dandy building? Stanley Ashe ought to be proud to be the main gazebo of the schools and have his office there. I'll show you, Sam, while we look at the well-kept Hill Grove cemetery. All right, let's go back down Snyder street. We'll turn up Crawford avenue, if it's all the same to you. Nice homes here, too. John Armstrong's is great, I think. Wonder why somebody doesn't build in that vacant field on the right. Isn't that a wonderful sight out there along Breakneck—hundreds of fertile farms, rolling away to the timbered foothills. Makes your brain whirl and you wish it were thus always—midsummer."What do you say if we go out that way? So, out to the intersection of Gilmore's road and turn to the left, out past the Johnston school-house onto the brick road near Moyer. Back toward the city, passing the historic "Point of Rocks" on the left near the Cambrock. Here we are at Poplar Grove. Some nice houses going up here, Sam. Look at Henry Brown's.
Out there to the right is where Charlie McCormick is selling his lots.
Homes going up there, too.Shall we go down Swagertown hill, Sam? Here, we have the prize-township school. Deserves the title, too. Down the hill towards Sligo, over the bridge, past the mill and up the Narrows hill. Simply got to stop here, Sam. Pretty, isn't it now?
Sam, give the crank a turn, jump in
and let me have lots of steering room. I'll prove it to you.

THE PARAMOUNT.

"THE SON-OF-A-GUN."—The second of the new G. M. Anderson five reel pictures, is being presented today. It is doubtful if there ever has been gathered together such a star crew of prize cowboys as those who appear in the support of Mr. Anderson.
Altogether there are more than fifty of them in the production and of these, fully one half were winners of medals at the various round-ups and rodeos which are held annually at different points in the west. The story opens in Placeville, Arizona, on the evening of a dance given by May Brown, idol of the Bar-O ranch.
Later "the Son-of-a-Gun" attends the dance uninvited. The good people object to his presence and order him out. Enraged he begins to "shoot up" the place. Everyone hunts cover except May Brown, who goes to him fearlessly, asks him for his guns and then invites him to stay as long as he likes. While he is looking at her dumfounded, Buddy floors him with a rock. Buck realizing that "the Son-of-a-Gun" is helpless attempts to kill him but is stopped by May. When he regains consciousness and learns that May has saved his life he forms almost child-like devotion to her.
The picture is intensely interesting and is one that all will enjoy. A selected comedy is also being shown.
Monday Viola Dana will be seen in "Some Bride."

THE SOISSON.

"WHEN DOCTORS DISAGREE."— Mabel Normand's new Goldwyn picture is an interesting attraction today. Miss Normand has been seen before as a rural mischief maker, but never with the opportunities that Millie Martin finds. Her escapades at the May party, her course in beauty culture and the railway trip she takes with her father are only a prelude to the excruciating situation which confronts her at a sanitarium.
She is to be operated on, thanks to the order of a well styled physician, because she has swallowed a toothache remedy. It happens to be a large, gold of her father's choicest chewing tobacco. Millie's struggles against this indignity and the persisting endeavors of the doctors to appear professional only add to the pandemonium of the story. When the girl and her medical attendant make their escape, the head of the institution is sure that a gang of robbers has invaded the place. Miss Normand is supported by Walter Hiers, George Nichols, Alex. E. Francis and other well known screen stars. Monday and Tuesday William Desmond, the popular screen star, will be featured in "Mists of Hell."the skyline of the city. We see the Catholic church and school, Cottage State hospital, Aaron's, the Title & Trust building, the Second National bank.Crack 'er up again, Sam. Observe that view from the top of the hill.
Wonderful from here. One of the highest and prettiest bluffs in the state, Sam. Look at the Yough curving in and out there 150 feet below us.
Brake hard here. This is one of the most pronounced S curves I ever saw. Here we are at Broad Ford.
That big institution on our left is said to be a factory where a famous beverage, now extinct, was manufactured. Now up the Morgan valley.
On our left we see what might seem to be fissures caused by an evident volcano or some other internal disturbance. Take a look at those half-century old coke and coal workings.
Here we are at the birthplace of City Clerk "Squire" A. O. Bixler.
About face in our flivver, Sam, we reach Broad Ford again. This time we turn under the P. & L. E. trestle and up the hill on "high." Turning to the right we ascend German hill.
In "low" now. Past more pretty country to the Cochran race track, a credit to private enterprise and our community.We reach Dawson, a thrifty and enterprising community, crosses the new steel and concrete bridge over the Yough at one of its widest places.
The P. & L. E. yards look busy. Up Liberty hill. Is that a castle out there on the brow of the other hill, Sam?
Must be the P. & L. E. Y. M. C. A.
Must be a splendid view from there.
Now to Vanderhill, through the town and out the road to the hamlets of the Perry valley. George Washington's old stamping ground. The sun will soon be out of sight. To the reservoir back of Nellie mines, past many beautiful farms and homes.
Very modern, too, these farms. Feel the cool winds of evening, with alternate blasts of hot air from the coke ovens. Unique, isn't it? A blend of America's agriculture and industry in that air. Here we are at the Union Supply store at Juniata. Turn to the left now and back toward home.Romance here, Sam. Young lovers biding and cooling. No don't spoil their fun with the spot light. Now to Leisnering No. 1 and Trotter, communities inhabited by a cosmopolitan population. Children at play. Men smoking. Women sewing. A lot of other things here, too. Look like they're happy.Why it's 9 o'clock, Sam. We've been gone since 6:30. It's been a wonderful trip. It's a wonderful community. I have found out more about Connellsville and the adjacent territory in one evening than I ever knew before, and I'm 40. I saw a wonderful land, inhabited by happy, prosperous people. Where is there any better?

FRANK LYON POLK

Frank Lyon Polk, counselor of the state department and acting secretary of state, has been nominated by President Wilson as under secretary of state, a new office created under the 1919 legislative and judicial appropriation bill. The salary of the new under secretary is $7,500. The office created is expected to simplify the transaction of business with Great Britain and France, whose cabinet officers are assisted by under secretaries rather than by counselors.NEW TIPPLE AT Surplus Coal.Special to The Courier.

DUNBAR, Aug. 2.—Work on the new tipple at mine No. 2 at the furnace, where the old one was destroyed by fire a month ago, is progressing finely. The new fan, a larger and better one, is up and working, and the mine is also in partial operation, the coal being run in the buggies down an incline from the pit mouth to a temporary loading place by the road. The new tipple will be a decided improvement on the old, though following the former in dimensions. Instead of having a straight chute into the car as before, there is a large bin to hold surplus coal. Master Carpenter J. B. Barnes is pushing the work rapidly and doing it in a mechanical manner. He expects to have the work completed by the middle of August, and sooner if possible.Owing to their inability to secure the Mount Braddock orchard in which to hold their picnic, the Baptist Bible school went to Shady Grove and were really fortunate in doing so as they were sheltered from the rain that several times dampened the grass and grounds. They had a fine time and came home happy.Rev. and Mrs. T. M. Gladden and family of Turley Creek came over to Dunbar Wednesday evening and attended the annual M. P. S. S. picnic at Tucker Run. They were given a most hearty welcome by their many friends here, for Rev. Gladden has not lost a iota of his popularity here although this is his second year away from Dunbar.David S. Leaphine of Keifers has cratic ticket.Henry Cole of Keifers is circulating a petition to be a candidate for the nomination for township commissioner on the Democratic ticket. Mr.

Cole was constable of the township for several terms some 20 years ago, and it is not too much to say that Dunbar township never had a better constable. The present state of his health will not permit of his doing hard manual labor, but would he no handicap to his duties as constable.John C. Browerfield of South Union

WOULD CUT OUT SERMONS

Advocates Permitting People to Take Part in Service; Pastors Would Be in Teaching Service Rather Than Preaching; Has Other Suggestions.Special to The Courier.
STONY BROOK, N. Y., Aug. 2.—Two hundred ministers, delegates from all parts of the country to the Presbyterian New Era conference here today, warmly applauded a layman, George Nicholson of Kingston, Pa., who plainly told them the weak points in their ministry and indicated how to catch the laymen with the right kind of bait.Mr. Nicholson is an elder in the Kingston Presbyterian church. He blamed poor preaching for much of the church's failure to win the world for Christ. Many ministers, he said, developed theology to the neglect of the vital three R's. They are deficient in careful convincing reading of the scriptures; failed to write sympathetic letters to those needing them; did not grasp the opportunities open to the men guiding laymen to large financial investments in spiritual enterprises.Elder Nicholson said the people wanted to worship God and be believed they would welcome Sunday morning worship instead of poor preaching. He would have the people take part in the service and in many cases omit the sermon altogether. He advocated careful, prayerful public reading of the Bible. He wondered why the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church, New York, had to go to Scotland for a preacher. He urged the study of the Bible, with week-night sessions of Bible classes for business people.The pastors, he said, must be in the teaching service even more than preaching. They would be surprised to see how many people would enjoy a service of worship with the sermon omitted.The men and women of the church, said Elder Nicholson, are ready to respond to the proper appeal and leadership. The officers must be active, not officers in name only. There must be personal calling among members. He advised members living on "The Hill" and those living on "The Flats" to interchange calls and find out the curious and astonishing thoughts each set had of the other.
The entire church membership ought to make house-to-house visits.The laymen, said Elder Nicholson, want to do something worth while, substantial, important, in community work, and were eager to enlist in proving Christianity the true basis for friendship and fellowship in the community.Rev. Alexander MacColl, D. D., pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, Philadelphia, Pa., said that not in the lumber camps but in the large cities multitudes were saying "To hell with the church!" It was time for the church to win these men.
Religion to be vital must be contemporaneous, must speak in the language of the day.Many are devoting their energy to criticism of Sunday baseball. And similar matters, but it was fine for the church to put its efforts into the big things. The biggest task of the ages was now on the hands of the church. Christianity must be proved to be the religion of love.Some people were advocating rock-ing chairs and smoking pews to get more people into the church. But numbers were not enough. "Satan provoked David to number Israel." The great program of the church was the domination of the world by love.
This would settle the vast social and economic crises of the day.Dr. MacColl said that millions were being wasted in decadent and duplicating church enterprises in large cities, and a proper survey of this denominational wastefulness would slua the church into revolutionizing its methods. Church controversies must be eliminated, he said. He argued for social service, based on the principle of Christ's healing the man sick with the palsy, "that ye may know that the Son of Man hath power to save souls."Dr. MacColl said he was all Presbyterian by ancestry and training, but he would gladly hail the passing of Presbyterianism for something better and bigger. If men could say, "Behold how the Christians love one another," the whole world would knock at the door of Christ for admission.

GERMAN PAPER ISSUED IN MEXICO VOWS VENGEANCE

Tenon Colony There Adopts Catechism of Hatred for the Allies.

PROTEST AGAINST TREATY

Arrogantly Declares Germany Never Wanted War, Didn't Outrage Belgium, Her Armies Were Not Beaten and Should Not Admit Her Guilt.

MEXICO CITY, July 8.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.) A "Catechism of Hate" was printed in the Deutsche Zeitung von Mexiko and revenge was threatened in an article accompanying it on the day when the delegates of the German republic signed the peace treaty at Versailles.
The paper, printed in German, is generally believed to voice the opinions of the Pan-German, irreconcilable element of the German colony in Mexico. Translations in part of the article follow:

"The day of revenge of the German people is not far off. We shall do good to practice patience until the day of revenge has arrived. Revenge must be coldly consummated. In order to prepare ourselves for it, we need a 'Catechism of Hatred.'"

The "twelve commandments" of the catechism, summarized in brief form many of the protests which have been heard from German sources since the terms of the peace treaty became known. "They deny that Germany waited war, asserting that Germany was right in invading Belgium, attack England for the blockade of Germany, aver that Germany's armies were never defeated and declare that German honor is insulted by making Germans sign admission of their guilt.

In conclusion, the article says:
"These twelve commandments will aid us to prepare us mentally for the day on which the hour of revenge will strike."

Asked if the sentiments expressed in the Deutsche Zeitung's article were those of the entire German colony in Mexico, one of the leaders of the German socialist party in Mexico declared that they were held only by the older and wealthier colonists, who dominated both the paper and the colony, but that a large part of the colony were willing to accept the verdict of the war and give their support to the new German government and to reconstruction policies.

AT THE BEACH

Sensible and pretty is this swimming suit of black satin whose trim little tulle boasts a vest of white satin laced up with ribbon. A silk giraffe ends in rubber tassels and the scent bloomers are both becoming and ideal for swimming.

today. He just lately arrived from France. He is attached to the 101st Infantry and is now stationed at Washington, D. C. It is not just "Bill" now, however; it is Lieutenant W. C.
Curry. The boys were all surprised and glad to see him. He was at one time reported killed in France, but he turned up O. K. Bill says he was too fast for the Dutch. He left this morning to join his command at the capital.

Mrs. B. F. McManus was calling on friends at Pittsburg yesterday.

Vanderbilt Council No. 104, J. O. U.
A. M., put on a class initiation of the oriental degree Wednesday evening.

After the boys had solved the mysteries of neighborhood a banquet and smoker was held, after which the gloves were brought out and several nice boxing bouts staged.
James Shaffer returned today after spending nearly a month visiting and traveling through several western states. He spent the greater part of the time with his brother at Miles City, Mont.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lint of McKees Rocks are spending a week here with relatives and friends.

D. J. Beatty and Joseph Ambrose, members of the old "Fighting Tenth," attended the reunion at Mount Pleasant Thursday.

Doing Penance.

"Where's the old man, Bill?"
"Why, his wife caught him shoveling in chicken pie at a swell restaurant and now he's eating humble pie in the kitchen."

Full Assortments Throughout August

We want to announce to the trade generally that while we are getting in numerous lines of fall goods during the month of August, consisting of all sorts of women's, misses' and children's wear, mens' and boys' wear, we are also keeping up our lines of summer goods. As a rule merchants clean up on summer supplies during August. So do we on certain lines; on other lines we keep getting in supplies—women's, misses' and children's dresses and dress goods, hosiery, underwear, ribbons and many other articles. It is picnic month you know, excursion month, outing month, and these lines we are keeping up because there is a demand that justifies us doing so. And we further announce that the prices for this class of goods are cheaper this month than at any time during the summer.
We can provide for your wants, and at the same time we can show you advanced styles in fall and winter wear. Inspections solicited.

IMPROVEMENT SHOWN

Increase in Freight During Week of July 8 Reported by Railroads.

Freight movements in nearly all regions showed improvement but there was still a falling-off compared with the same period in 1918, according to reports to Director Hines on traffic conditions for the week ending July 8. The decrease was particularly true in the northwestern region where the loading of revenue freight for the week shows 161,622 cars, a record for 1919, but about 3,000 cars under the corresponding period last year.

In the Potomac region, tide water coal dumping increased about 7,000 for the week ending July 10, a decrease of 17 per cent from the figures for the same period last year. Reports from the southern region shows that the number of cars loaded increased 1,500.

The Gentle Way To Reduce

1. If you are over-stout, you know the discomfort of being so. You may be clever enough to make others imagine you are to be fat, that you are as contented as you outwardly seem—but you truly wish to be thinner. See the 3 shadow pictures here.

2. A $100.00 Guarantee is enclosed in each box of Oil of Korein. Cash to you if you do not reduce 10 to 50, or more, pounds, as may be needed in your case.

3. This is the right time to begin reducing weight. Your health will improve. You will become more active and efficient.

4. Your figure will be more beautiful, attractive you will realize the benefit of your new appearance. Gain youth and beauty!

5. If your druggist doesn't have Oil of Korein in stock, he will obtain for you. Or we will mail you a package in plain wrapper, for which you may pay when it has come to you.

6. Follow the directions of the Korein System of weight reduction. They are simple, pleasant and careful. Begin to feel the benefit at once!

Connellsville Bargain Days

Wednesday and Thursday, August 6 and 7.

This Ninth Annual Thrift Event

Offers Best Buying Opportunities for Folks Who Want to Save Money!

For many months Connellsville's leading merchants having been working together, using every effort to makethis year's event surpass all previous efforts.

Bargain Days Will Be Days of Opportunity!

Not alone the people of Connellsville, but every thrifty person in this vicinity should plan to do a lot of shopping on August 6th and 7th because it will be a great Bargain Event.

Market Prices Are Advancing!

and though everything is "Going-Up" in September, most everything will be marked down on Bargain Days.

Every store in town is well filled with fine offerings, and those fore-sighted people who Buy on Bargain Days will be mighty proud of their purchases and much gratified with the savings made, when they see what other folks have to pay for similar goods next Fall.

Listed below are Dry Goods, Clothing, Shoes, Groceries, Drugs, Furniture, Household Articles and Furnishings, Hardware, Meats and many other necessary commodities will be reduced in price for these two days.

In addition to the advertisements listed below, other general advertisements have been prepared by most every merchant and will be found in this paper from time to time. We ask you to read everyone, check all wanted and interesting items and come prepared to lay in a supply of useful things at very unusual economies.

"Oh, yes, even dear old Frank's got the fever," Amberson laughed. "He's as wild as any of them. He told me about this invention he's gone into, too. Millions in it! Some new electric headlight better than anything yet—every car in America can't help but have 'em, add all that. He's putting half his life into it, and the fact is he almost talked me into getting father to finance me enough for me to go into it. Poor father! He's financed me before! I suppose he would again if I had the heart to ask him. At any rate I've been thinking it over."

"So have I," Fanny admitted. "He seemed to be certain it would pay twenty-five per cent the first year, and enormously more after that; and I'm only getting four on my little principal. People are making such enormous fortunes out of everything to do with motors, it does seem as if—"

"Well, I told him I'd think it over seriously."

"We may turn out to be partners and millionaires then," Amberson laughed. "I thought I'd ask Eugene's advice."

"I wish you would," said Fanny. "He probably knows exactly how much profit there would be in this."

Eugene's advice was to "go slow." He thought electric lights for automobiles were "coming—some day," but probably not until certain difficulties could be overcome. Altogether he was discouraging, but by this time his two friends "had the fever" as thoroughly as old Frank Bronson himself had it; for they had been with Bronson to see the light working beautifully in a machine shop. "Perfect!" Fanny cried. "And if it worked in the shop it's bound to work any place else, isn't it?"

Eugene would not agree it was "bound to"—yet, being pressed, was driven to admit that "it might," and retiring from what was developing into an oratorical contest, repeated a warning about not "putting too much into it."

George Amberson also laid stress on caution later, though the Major had "financed him" again, and he was "going in." "You must be careful to leave yourself a margin of safety," Fanny said. "You must be careful to leave yourself enough to fall back on, in case anything should go wrong."

Fanny deceived him. In the impossible event of "anything going wrong" she would have enough left in "live on," she declared, and rushed excitedly, for she was having the best time that had come to her since Wilbur's death. Like so many women for whom money has always been provided without their understanding how, she was prepared to be a thorough and irresponsible plunger.

Amberson, in his wearier way, shared her excitement, and in the winter, when the exploiting company had been formed, and he bought Fanny her important engraved shares of stock, he reverted to his prediction of "possibilities, made when they first spoke of the new light."

"We seem to be partners, all right," he laughed. "Now let's go ahead and be millionaires before Isabel and young George come home."

"When they come home!" she echoed sorrowfully—and it was a phrase which found an evasive echo in Isabel's letters. In these letters Isabel was always planning pleasant things that she and Fanny and the Major and George and "Mother" would do—when she and her son came home. "They'll find things pretty changed, I'm afraid," Fanny said. "If they ever do come home!"

Amberson went over the next summer and joined his sister and nephew in Paris, where they were living. "Isabel does want to come home," he told Fanny gravely on the day of his return in October. "She's wanted to for a long while—and she ought to come while she can stand the journey—"

And he amplified this statement, leaving Fanny looking startled and solemn when Lucy came by to drive him out to dinner at the new house Eugene had just completed.

He was loud in praise of the house after Eugene arrived, and gave them no account of his journey until they had retired from the dinner table to Eugene's library, a gray and shadowy room, where their coffee was brought. Then, equipped with a cigar, which seemed to occupy his attention, Amberson spoke in a casual tone of his sister and her son.

"I found Isabel as well as usual," he said. "Only I'm afraid as usual isn't particularly well. Sydney and Amelia had been up to Paris in the spring, but she hadn't seen them. Somebody told her they were there. It seems. They'd left Florence and were living in Rome; Amelia's become a Catholic and is said to give great sums to charity and to go about with the gentry in consequence, but Sydney's still and lives in a wheat estate most of the time. It struck me Isabel ought to be doing the same thing."

He paused, bestowing minute care upon the removal of the little band from his cigar; and as he seemed to have concluded his narrative Eugene spoke out of the shadow beyond a heavily shaded lamp: "What do you mean by that?" he asked quietly.

"Oh, she's cheerful enough," said Amberson, still not looking at either his young hostess or her father. "At least," he said, "she manages to seem so. I'm afraid she hasn't been really well for several years. Of course she makes nothing of it, but it seemed rather serious to me when I noticed she had to stop and rest twice to get up one short flight of stairs in her two-floor apartment. I told her

I thought she ought to make George let her come home."

"Let her?" Eugene repeated in a low voice. "Does she want to?"

"She doesn't urge it, George seems to like the life there—in his grand, gloomy and peculiar way; and of course she'll never change about being proud of him and all that—he's quite a swell. But in spite of anything she said, rather often because, I know she does, indeed want to come. She'd like to be with father, of course; and I think she's—well, she's intimate one day that she feared it might even happen that she wouldn't get to see him again. At the time I thought she referred to his age and feebleness, but on the boat coming home I remembered the little look of wisdom, and of resignation, with which she said it, and it struck me all at once that I'd been mistaken: I saw she was really thinking of her own state of health."

"I see," Eugene said, his voice even lower than it had been before. "And you say he won't let her come home?" Amberson laughed, but still continued to be interested in his cigar. "Oh, I don't think he uses force! He's very gentle with her. I doubt if the subject is mentioned between them, and yet—and yet, knowing my interesting nephew as you do, wouldn't you think that was about the way to put it?"

"Knowing him as I do—yes," said Eugene slowly. "Yes, I should think that was about the way to put it."

A murmur out of the shadows beyond him—a faint sound, musical and feminine, yet expressive of a notable intensity—seemed to indicate that Lucy was of the same opinion.

CHAPTER XIX.

"Let her" was correct; but the time came—and it came in the spring of the next year—when it was no longer a question of George's letting his mother come home. He had to bring her, and to bring her quickly if she was to see her father again; and Amberson had been right: her danger of never seeing him again lay not in the Major's feebleness of heart but in her own. As it was George telegraphed his uncle to have a wheelchair at the station, for the journey had been disastrous, and to this hybrid vehicle, placed close to the car platform, her son carried her in his arms when she arrived. She was unable to speak, but patted her brother's and Fanny's hands and looked "very sweet," Fanny found the desperate courage to tell her. She was lifted from the chair into a carriage, and seemed a little stronger as they drove home; for once she took her hand from George's and waved it feebly toward the carriage window.

"Changed," she whispered. "So changed."

"You mean the town," Amberson said. "You mean the old place is changed. Don't you, dear?"

She smiled and moved her lips: "Yes."

"It'll change to a happier place, old dear," he said. "Now that you're back in it, and going to get well again."

But she only looked at him wistfully, her eyes a little fatigued.

When the carriage stopped her son carried her into the house and up the stairs to her own room, where a nurse was waiting; and he came out a moment later, and the doctor went in. At the end of the hall a stricken group was clustered: Amberson and Fanny and the Major. George, deathly pale and speechless, took his grandfather's hand, but the old gentleman did not seem to notice his action.

"When are they going to let me see my daughter?" he asked querulously. "They told me to keep out of the way while they carried her in, because it might upset her. I wish they'd let me go in and speak to my daughter. I think she wants to see me."

He was right—presently the doctor came out and beckoned to him, and the Major shuffled forward, leaning on a shaking cane; his face, after all the years of proud solitariness, had grown stooping at last, and his untrimmed white hair struggled over the back of his collar. He looked old—old and divested of the world—as he crept toward his daughter's room. Her voice was stronger, for the waiting

and welcome as the old man reached the open doorway. Then the door was closed.

George began to pace the floor, taking care not to go near Isabel's door, and that his footsteps were muffled by the long, thick hall rug. After a while he went to where Amberson, with folded arms and bowed head, had seated himself near the front window. "Uncle George," he said hoarsely. "I didn't—"

"Well?"

"Oh, my God, I didn't think this thing the matter with her could ever be serious! I—"

He gasped. "When the doctor I had meet us at the boat—"

He could not go on.

Amberson only nodded his head, and did not otherwise change his attitude.

Isabel lived through the night. At eleven o'clock Fanny came timidly to George in his room. "Eugene is here," she whispered. "He's downstairs. He wants—"

"He wants to know if he can't see her. I didn't know what to say. I said I'd see. I didn't know—the doctor said—"

"The doctor said we must keep her peaceful," George said sharply. "Do you think that man's coming would be very soothing? My God! if it hadn't been for him this mightn't have happened: we could have gone on living here quietly, and—why, it would be like taking a stranger into her room! She hasn't even spoken of him more than twice in all the time we've been away. Doesn't he know how sick she is? You tell him the doctor said she had to be quiet and peaceful. That's what he did say, isn't it?"

Fanny acquiesced tearfully. "I'll tell him. I'll tell him the doctor said she was to be kept very quiet. I—I didn't know—"

And she pattered out.

An hour later the nurse appeared in George's doorway; she came noiselessly, and his back was toward her; but he jumped as if he had been shot, and his jaw fell, he so feared what she was going to say.

"She wants to see you."

The terrified mouth shut with a click and he nodded and followed her, but she remained outside his mother's room while he went in.

Isabel's eyes were closed, and she did not open them or move her head, but she smiled and edged her hand toward him as he sat on a stool beside the bed. He took that slender, cold hand and put it to his cheek.

"Darling, did you get something to eat?" She could only whisper slowly and with difficulty. It was as if Isabel herself were far away, and only able to signal what she wanted to say.

"Yes, mother."

"All you needed?"

"Yes, mother."

She did not speak again for a time; then, "Are you sure you didn't—didn't catch cold—coming home?"

"I'm all right, mother."

"That's good. It's sweet—it's sweet—"

"What is, mother darling?"

"To feel—my hand on your cheek. I—I can feel it."

But this frightened him horribly—that she seemed so glad she could feel it, like a child proud of some miraculous seeming thing accomplished, it frightened him so that he could not speak, and he feared that she would know how he trembled; but she was unaware, and again was silent. Finally she spoke again.

"I wonder if—"

Big Lot of Hay Fever Jokes

But Kentucky Man Says—"People Who Belong to Hay Fever Colony are Kidding Themselves."

Wouldn't Be Any Rose or Hay Fever if Simple Home Remedy Was Given a Chance.

"Yes, there's a real NINETY-NINE per cent effective remedy for hay or rose fever," frankly states a druggist in a prosperous Kentucky city. "But I don't expect anyone to believe me, because the treatment is so easy and the cost not worth mentioning."

The annual crop of hay-fever jokes would be mighty scarce if people would get an ounce of Mentholized Arcline and by just adding water that has been boiled make a pint of liquid that will prove a real help to all who suffer."

"Many of my hay-fever friends tell me that by starting to gargle and sniff or spray the nostrils a few times a day the expected severe attack often fails to appear and in cases where it does show up is very mild and does not annoy."

"The Better Class of Pharmacists" who dispense Mentholized Arcline say it will greatly modify any attack even when taken three or four days after hostilities begin.

Go to a real live druggist when you get ready to make a pint.

7 A DAY FOR 7 DAYS

If Your Nerves Are Shaky Because of Over-Indulgence in Tobacco or Alcohol or by Excess of Any Kind, Bio-Ferrin is What You Need Right Away.

Don't grow old before your time. Don't let nervousness wreck your happiness or chances in life. The man with strong, steady nerves is full of vigor, energy, ambition and confidence.

You can have nerves of steel, firm step, new courage and keen mind by putting your blood and nerves to rest with Bio-Ferrin, a new discovery, inexpensive and efficient.

Men and women who get up so tired in the morning that they have to drag themselves to their daily labor will in just a few days arise with clear mind, definite purpose and loads of ambition.

All you have to do is to take two Bio-Ferrin tablets after each meal and one at bedtime—7 a day for 7 days—then reduce to one after each meal until all are gone.

Then if your energy and endurance haven't doubled, if your mind isn't keener and eyes brighter, if you don't feel twice as ambitious as before, any druggist anywhere will return the purchase price—gladly and freely.

Bio-Ferrin is without doubt the greatest remedy for nervous, run down, weak, anaemic men and women ever offered and is not at all expensive. All druggists in this city and vicinity have a supply on hand—sell many packages.

THE COKE SITUATION IS EASIER BUT QUOTATIONS ARE UNCHANGED

Supply For Fourth Quarter Being Negotiated By a Few Furnaces.

FLAT PRICE IS FAVORED

By Operators, Ratio Contracts Failing to Work as Had Been Anticipated; Possible Higher Coal Prices Also a Factor; Foundry Coke Still Stiff.

Special to The Weekly Courier.

PITTSBURGH, July 30.—Quotations on coke are unchanged from a week or a fortnight ago, but the situation is regarded as somewhat easier on account of there being a considerable tonnage of coke on track. Interest in furnace coke is centered on the prompt market since there is practically no contract business to be done at this time. It is just developed, however, that there is to be some buying for fourth quarter, on account of a few furnaces having bought only for the third quarter during the recent contracting movement. The consumers involved are sounding out the market cautiously and find operators in better mood to negotiate than they were a month ago. No precise quotations for fourth quarter have yet been made. For the half year flat prices have ranged from $1.25 to $1.50, and at the present time there are sellers for the balance of the year, say five months, at $1.50 and probably at a shade less. Fourth quarter alone, however, is another proposition, since operators feel they should have more money for the last three months of the year than the average for the five months, on account of there being prospects of two months of bad weather at the end of the year, with uncertain shipping conditions.

The views of coke operators as to the profitability of 84 to one ratio contracts have been revised somewhat, as a month of the half year has now elapsed without big iron showing any definite advancing tendency from a level that gives the operator only $4.12 for his coke. There is now a strong balance of probability that a flat price contract at $4.50 would be more profitable to the coke operator. As to whether the sale of coal would make a still better average there is a difference of opinion. Most operators expect considerably higher coal prices towards the end of the year, but some of them doubt whether they would be able to ship a great deal of coal if shipping conditions were such as to produce high prices. The railroads would furnish the operators coke cars before coal cars, and thus $4.50 coke price on which one could ship would be better than a $3.00 coal price on which one would be unable to ship.

The question just now is what will become of the furnace coke on track awaiting shipping directions. Operators are holding the coke at $4.00 but furnaces are looking for bargains. None of the furnaces is in need of coke to maintain operations as there are full shipments on contracts, but many furnaces would be willing to stock up on coke against next winter's requirements, but for stocking purposes the furnaces seem to think they should have bargain prices. Some have intimated that they would like to buy at $2.75 or $2.69 and such offers the operators will not entertain.

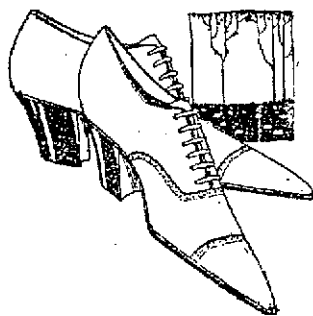

The foundry coke market is very stiff as there is heavy demand and scarcely sufficient production, producing a condition that amounts almost to a scarcity. One important interest that usually figures quite prominently in the foundry coke market admits that it is unable to take care of all its trade. The price of $4.75 that formerly obtained on nondescript brands has now practically disappeared, and the spot and prompt foundry coke market is now quotable at $3.00 to $5.50 against $4.75 to $5.50 formerly quoted, making the market as a whole stand as follows:

Prompt furnace ..... $4.00
Contract furnace ..... $4.25 to $4.50
Prompt foundry ..... $3.00 to $5.50
Contract foundry ..... $3.00 to $5.50

The coal market has improved a trifle in the past week, but not much. Production in the Pittsburgh district is at about 85 per cent of capacity. While labor supply is far from plentiful the restriction in output is due to lack of orders more than to scarcity of either men or cars. Prompt lots of Connellsville coal, for by-product purposes, are going at $2.25 to $2.50 but the bulk of the movement is at lower prices. On contracts for Connellsville by-product coal calling for monthly adjustment of price no decision has been reached as to August deliveries but predictions are that there will be an advance over the $2.20 settlement price that obtained for July, this having represented an increase of ten cents over the June settlement.

The pig iron market shows only a moderate volume of activity, but there is ample sufficient buying to take care of the furnaces in blast, as they are already fairly well sold up. The pig iron market is certain not to decline unless idle furnaces are too eager to get into blast, in which case they
